

At Home, June 27th, '60.

Friend Bush,

Do me the favor to alter Mrs. Drovin's address, insending her the Statesman, to 236 North Ninth St., Philadelphia. You have been sending it to that city addressed to her but to a different locality. I am anxious she should get it regularly, as it will save me writing letters which is quite a bore.

Yours, always Sincerely,

Geo. L. Curry.

P.S. The "Fern Patch" never looked so beautiful as now.
