Dear Bush,

As per request, prefaced by "please", (McCraken says you must be a candidate for the Senate, when you degenerate into such politeness as "please",) I called on Mc about your "Bangins." He said they were on the way to you, and I suppose you have them by this time.

The Advertiser office has found a couple of numbers in place of those I sent you, and you can keep them, until you are ready to draw a fine bead on F---.

The Albany Enquirer, I read. I clipped that out and sent to Nesmith. Pearne says it was written in Portland, but would not say by whom. He was sounding me on the B- Cor. the other day, and tried to make me believe that he knew it was me. I told him I might believe him, but I had heard of his trying that trick on some others.

I have a pretty good thing of Williams' on P-- but I wont put it on paper. Will tell it you when I come up. How do you like the sketch of the Civil War in Wash F in the Daily Bul. of the 30th ult. Coming Tuesday.

Dear Bush.

As per request, prefaced by "please," (Mr Croaken says you must be a candidate for the Senate, when you degenerate into such politeness as "please,") I called on Mr about your "Hangins." He said they were on day way to you, and I suppose you have them by this time.

The Advertiser office has found a couple of numbers in place of those I sent you, and you can keep them, until you are ready to draw a fine head on R.

The Albany Enquirer, I read, I clipped that out and sent to Kresmith, Prarne says it ^{was} written in Portland, but would not say by whom. He was sounding me on the B. Cor. the other day, and tried to make me believe that he knew it was me, I told him I might believe him, but I had heard of his trying that trick on some others,

I have a pretty good thing of William's on P - but I won't put it on paper, Will tell it you when I come up. How do you like the sketch of the civil war in Wash T in the Daily Bul. of the 30th ult. coming Tuesday.
